

PAT CONROY'S GREAT LOVE OF LIBRARIES

presented by Jonathan Haupt

and

Join us to celebrate the building of Lexington Main Library's 20th Anniversary and honor one of America's most beloved writers, Pat Conroy, who once wrote in The Librarian chapter of "My Reading Life", "I Was Born to Be in a Library."

We will be joined by Jonathan Haupt, Executive Director of Pat Conroy Literary Center to explore Pat's remarkable relationship to libraries – public, school and his own personal library – over the span of his writing life.

"I Was Born to Be in a Library." – Pat Conroy

TIME: 6:30 PM

DATE: THURSDAY, SEPT 27TH

Lexington Main Library
5440 Augusta Rd.
Lexington, SC 29072

Free and open to 15 and up.

We bring you this program in celebration of Lexington Main Library's 20th Anniversary.